

Public Point Communications LLC

Strategic communications support for local governments and public organizations

Fulshear, Texas

Serving Houston-area municipalities

hello@publicpointcommunications.com

publicpointcommunications.com

Who We Help Public Point Communications helps small and fast-growing cities turn scattered public information into clearer systems residents, councils, and staff can use. Services are built for local governments with limited or no dedicated communications staff.	Best Fit Municipal clients in Fulshear, Fort Bend County, and nearby Houston-area communities that need practical communication planning, audits, engagement support, and public-facing materials.
Core Capabilities • Communications audits and gap assessments • Strategic communication plans and message frameworks • Resident education and civic engagement planning • Council, staff, and department communication support • Public information materials for growth, projects, and bond-related education	Differentiators • Local-government communications experience • Practical tools built for small teams • Clear writing for residents, councils, and staff • Engagement approach focused on trust, understanding, and action
Typical Engagements • Communications audit: 2-4 weeks • Strategic communications plan: 4-8 weeks • Project or campaign support: scoped by need • Ongoing advisory support: monthly retainer option	Vendor Readiness • Texas LLC: Public Point Communications LLC • W-9, EIN, and vendor setup details available upon request • Insurance documentation available once policy is active • Based in Fulshear, Texas; available for nearby municipal clients

Start with a city communications review.

Use Public Point for a focused audit, strategic plan, or project-specific support when your city needs clearer messaging, stronger public information, and more consistent resident engagement.